The Fourth Sunday of Lent—Laetare Sunday

As is evident by the rose colored vestments, today is Laetare Sunday. “Laetare” is the imperative form of the latin verb which means “rejoice”. It is the first word of the introit of today’s Mass taken from Isaia,66:10-11. “Rejoice, O Jerusalem and come together all you who love her. Rejoice you who have been in sorrow that you may exalt and be filled from the abundance of your consolation.”

In today’s liturgy we find the spirit of joy in the midst of penance. We find a rose amidst the prickly thorns of fasting and sacrifice. We rejoice at the thought that “we are children of promise as Isaac was”. Our Creator God has made us His adopted children. We are no longer slaves to sin and death! We are heirs to the greatest kingdom that ever was, is or ever shall be! But before we can enter into that inheritance we need to follow the same path as He who merited it for us. He whose blood has ransomed us from an everlasting bed of thorns in this valley of tears. He whose path is marked out on the very walls of our church, the Stations of the Cross. Jesus says to each one of us. “If any man will come after me let him deny himself, take up his cross and follow Me!”

Make the best of this second half of Lent!

22 days of Lent have passed. Only 18 remain. These final 18 will show who we are: slaves to our passions or free men willing to fast, sacrifice, pray and deny the flesh in order to obtain the Promise of everlasting life! Lent is half over! How have we done so far? CAN WE DO MORE?!!!
